The living areas are decorated throughout in a stylish yet cosy style using soft warm tones, local rustic woods and textured natural materials. A spectacular three-sided glass fire is enjoyed by the living and dining areas.

Living Areas

Double height ceilings and large glass windows set the scene in this luxurious chalet. The living area has several comfortable sofas to settle into beside the glass-fronted log fire. You can enjoy the flat screen TV equipped with Apple TV, DVD player and selection of DVDs, the surround sound system, or the collection of books and board games. Floor-to-ceiling glass doors open out onto a sun terrace with seating and a covered area for you to take in the panoramic views across and up the valley.

The dining area sits adjacent to the living area, sharing the glass-fronted fire and offering ample seating for 10. Bone china and elegant glassware compliment the food served from the well-equipped open plan kitchen.

Down a few steps from the terrace and nestled in the garden there is a circular sunken hot tub to ease aching muscles, whilst by the chalet entrance on the first floor is a cloakroom with ski racks and heated boot warmers.
